OnyxVoyage is a members-led luxury house built by and for Black gay and bisexual men — bespoke travel commissions, an Atlas of vetted welcoming cities and venues, atelier grooming, considered living, and a global community of salons, dinners, and chosen-family gatherings. Every partner, hotel, and itinerary is vetted for safety, dignity, and welcome. The tagline says it plainly: all of you, welcome here.

Long Boilerplate

OnyxVoyage is a private luxury house designed first for Black gay and bisexual men. What began as a shared list of hotels that knew how to welcome us became a directory, a 24-hour concierge, and a house: bespoke travel commissions worldwide, the OnyxVoyage Atlas of member-vetted cities and venues, atelier grooming designed for our skin and our spirit, and a community of salons, dinners, and gatherings across twelve cities a year. Every partner is vetted for welcome, discretion, and craft — if a room cannot honor who you are, it does not make the house. OnyxVoyage: all of you, welcome here.
